HE ALLEGES THAT HE HAS BEEN DAMAGED IN SUM OF $35,000.

Charles Newlin and Other Temperance Advocates the Defendants-County Court Cases.

Henry Greening, of Cumberland, filed three damage suits yesterday, two being for alleged slander and one for damages, said to have been done to his business by the filing of a remonstrance to his application for liquor license. The aggregate demand is for $25,000. The slander suits are against Charles Newlin and John Ferguson, and are for $10,000 each. He alleges that they told different persons that he intended starting a roadhouse, to be run in connection with his saloon. The other suit is against Edward E Heinrichs, Thomas A. Brittanham, J. H. Goff and the two defendants in the other suits. He alleges that they circulated the remonstrance against his getting a liquor license, securing a majority of the voters of the township to sign, upon the representation that he intended starting a roadhouse, and that in so doing his business has been damaged to the amount of $15,000.

A Letter with Money in It.

The cases against William H. Kissel, charged with policy playing, were dismissed, but the matter is not yet settled. Prosecutor Pugh has a letter and $100 he received at the time the investigation was being made, which is said to have come in the nature of a bribe. Mr. Pugh declines to say whose name was signed to it or whether it came from one man. He says the letter was received before any witnesses had been called before the grand ury, but some evidence had been secured. The indictments were returned prematurely, the prosecutor learning that witnesse were leaving the city. Mr. Pugh asked Attorney Newton Harding for advice when the letter was received and he was told to lay the matter before Judge Alford. He says he did so within twenty-four hours

Appealed to Supreme Court.

The case of the city of Indianapolis against Jasper O. Tansel was filed on appeal yesterday in the Supreme Court. Tansel alleges in his complaint that on Nov. 21, 1898, he was crossing Nevada street when he stepped into a ditch and fell, striking his back against some boards. He maintains that he was permanently injured, and brought suit for $25,000 against the city, alleging that it had negligently allowed the board crossing over the ditch to remain in a bad state. The case was taken to Boone county on a change of Tansel recovered a verdict against the city for $7,000, and the city appealed to the Supreme Court.

Petition for an Allowance.

Zora Leach yesterday filed, in the Circuit Court, a petition for an allowance for herself and two children, while the divorce suit of her husband is pending. Recently her husband, William Leach, brought suit for divorce, alleging that his wife was abusive, that she struck him with fence pickets and sticks of wood.

In the Probate Court.

Thomas Sheehan was yesterday appointed administrator of the estate of Sallie Hopkins, giving a bond of $1,200. Ida F. Fisher was appointed administratrix of the estate of Adolph Fisher, and gave a bond of $100.

A Cause for Divorce.

William F. Garenger brought suit against his wife, Jennie E. Garinger, yesterday, for divorce. He alleges that she did not treat him as a wife should and that she told him she wanted a "moneyed man, who could put on style.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY.

The National Organization to Meet in This City This Week.

The annual meeting of the National Children's Home Society will be held in this city Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The society was organized in 1883 by the Rev. Mr. Van Arsdale, of Chicago, and the headquarters are at Chicago. In 1883 it became a national organization and the soclety now embraces twenty-four States. In the last seventeen years it is estimated that 15,000 children have been placed in homes by the society. There has been a State organization in Indiana since 1893, and during that time homes have been found for 566 dependent children. There are five districts in Indiana, Mrs. I. V. ## BUTLER FRESHMEN Succeed in Placing Their Flag on the Dome of the Building.

Irvington citizens, living in the neighborhood of the college, were awakened Friday night by loud and furious pounding on the roof of the college building. Yesterday morning, on looking toward the college to see the cause, which disturbed their slumbers, they beheld a green flag, bearing on it the figures "'03," floating from the cupola of the building, and on one side of the dome were painted, in large white letters, the same figures "'03." College spirit has been running high at Butler lately, especially since the episode in which two seniors were locked in a box car. It has been the ambition of every class in school to see their flag floating from the large cupola of the main building. Two years ago the class of '98 succeeded in putting up their flag and painting their letters on two sides of the dome. Since then, although many have been the attempts, no class has succeeded in accomplishing that feat, until last night. Early in the evening a number of freshmen began hauling ladders and ropes up on the roof and putting up barri-cades against any other students that might object to a freshman flag. Although intruders outnumbered the freshies, they were unable to gain the roof and stop the raising of a '03 flag. As the sun began to rise yesterday morning, the freshmen had accomplished their feat. Leaving two colleagues to guard the entrances to the dome they retired to get a little sleep before the examination. A number of freshmen have taken their books and food to the tower and intend to make their abode in the air until after commencement is over.

This afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in the college chapel, President Butler will make the baccalaureate address to the seniors, his sub ject being "Endure Hardness." Mr. Frank

Taylor, of Indianapolis, will sing two solos. MR. PUGH GRATEFUL.

He Presented Streit and Trimpe with Gold Watch Charms.

"That's an awful feeling," said Bicycle Policeman Streit, last night, "to be called before the superintendent and then before the patrolmen at roll call, when you don't mow what's coming." About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Streft and Trimpe, who are relieved from duty at 6 o'clock, were ordered to report to Superintendent Quigley at 7 p. m. When they did so they were ordered to go to the roll-call room and wait until called for. Superintendent Quigley entered the room after the routine work had been finished and called Streit and Trimpe to the front. His manner did not allay the fears of the two men. Each thought a severe reprimand was in store. After a long prelude, the meaning of which was very obscure, superintendent presented each with a beautiful solid gold watch charm, the gifts of Edwin Pugh, who felt gracious to them for their actions in the Criminal Court room, several days ago, when they prevented George Bennett, insane, from shooting him. He said it was only their timely appearance, regardless of the danger, that saved his life. Streit, at that time, reached over Pugh's shoulder and grabbed the revolver in Bennett's hand, just as he pulled the trigger. The hammer of the weapon descended upon the web of his hand, be-tween the thumb and forefinger, thus preventing its discharge. When the real meaning of the summons greatly relieved, but were unable to do more than express in thanks their appreciation of the remembrance.

dawned upon Streit and Trimpe they were

SHALLMAN NOT HELD HERE. But He Will Be Taken to Chicago for

The charge of forgery against Benjamin Shallman, who was arrested several days ago for passing a forged check on the Mc-Kee Shoe Company, was dismissed yesterday morning in Police Court and Shallman was again locked up as a fugitive. Detective Sergeant Steible, of Chicago, came here for him and will take him back for trial as soon as requisition papers arrive. Steible said Shallman had realized about $2,000 in Chicago from similar operations. He is also wanted in St. Louis for forgery. Thomas Hizer, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, was bound over to the grand jury. Frank Owens, on a charge of petit larceny, was also sent to the grand jury. Fred Heier, charged with keeping a gambling house on South New Jersey street, was fined $10 and costs. Clifford Ar## ney, Harry Warren, David Charles and Hamilton Birch were fined each $5 and costs for visiting the place.

Opening of Fresh Air Mission. The Fresh Air Mission will have its annual opening Thursday afternoon and evening of this week. Music will be furnished by the Boys' Brigade Band. There will also be a drill of the High School cadets, under the command of Captain Thomas E.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The History Section.

Custodian Vest, of the Statehouse, said, last night, that the statement of an afternoon paper, to the effect that the State Teachers' Association had been debarred from holding its meeting in the Statehouse was premature and untrue. Mr. Vest says he is at a loss to understand how such a report became current, as he had tendered the use of every vacant room in the Capitol to the association, and had written Prof. J. H. Hart, of Lebanon, a member of the executive committee, offering the association the use of the Senate and House chambers for the annual meeting to be held during the holidays.

He said at first he thought the Legislature met on the 1st of January, but when he discovered that it did not meet until Jan. 10, he immediately informed State Superintendent Jones that the Senate and House chambers were at the disposal of the association, and as Superintendent Jones has accepted the offer, Mr. Vest says there is no reason why the association should not hold its annual meeting in the Capitol during the holidays:

Closing Session Held.

Yesterday closed an interesting meeting of the history section of the Indiana State Teachers' Association at the Grand Hotel. The papers of the afternoon were "Presentation of History Work in Country Institutes," by Dr. J. A. Woodman, of the State University, discussed by George R. Wilson, of Dubois county, and "Indiana History; How Much and Where in the Course?" by Louis Lambert, of Fowler, discussed by W. S. Davis, of Richmond. It was decided to follow out Governor Mount's suggestion that attention should be paid to local history at Fourth of July celebrations, and those having charge of celebrations were asked to have speeches prepared. It was also decided to give more attention to Indiana day in the schools Dec. 11.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Draft of New Water Contract-Waste Paper Contract.

The Board of Works has submitted a proposition to the Indianapolis Water Company concerning the new contract to be made between the company and the city in regard to the water to be furnished the city by the water company. In the proposition the rate for fire hydrants is lowered from $50 a year to $42.50 and instead of the fortythree fountains costing $50 a year that the water be supplied free. The proposition also calls for free use of all other water furnished the city, including the water for the public bathhouse, should one be constructed. The board will submit a proposition for rates for domestic use in the near future. The directors of the water company will meet this week to discuss the

The Waste Paper Contract. C. F. Daly was one of the petitioners for a franchise to put waste paper boxes throughout the city, and he claims he submitted a proposal to the Board of Works last January, receiving assurance that would be taken up and receive due consideration with other proposals. Mr. Daly says he did not name a per cent. he would give for the privilege, as he thought that question could go until the matter came up for a settlement. He said he was not given the opportunity to bid for the franchise. W. W. Spencer, attorney for the Merchants' Waste Paper Box Company, said yesterday that he had submitted a proposition for a franchise and fully believed this company would be given an opportunity to bid for the franchise.

Removal of Center Poles.

City Engineer Jeup and the street-railway company's engineer are preparing plans for the removal of center poles on East Washington street. It is proposed that the feed cables be placed in alleys parallel with will be dangerous in fighting fires, and Fire Chief Barrett says such an obstruction as the feed cables will make it hard to get into burning buildings, besides making it dangerous to life, as the insulation may be torn away and the firemen exposed to live

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Will Be Observed by the Modern Woodmen To-Day.

This is memorial day in the Indianapolis lodges of Modern Woodmen of America. This morning graves of deceased "neighbors" will be decorated with appropriate ceremonies. At 2 o'clock this afternoon a meeting of Marion Camp, Modern Woodmen, will be held in its hall, No. 822 Virginia avenue, at which time the members will form in a body and march to the corner of Virginia avenue and Delaware street, where they will be joined by the other camps of the city. The parade will then move direct to St. Paul's Church, where memorial services will be held and a sermon befitting the occasion delivered by Rev. Lewis C. Brown, rector of the church. The Woodmen Band will head the procession. There are ten camps, with an enroll ment of 1,500 members, in the city. Visiting Woodmen are cordially invited to participate in these services, also families and

Special Sale of School Pianos

We will place on sale to-morrow morning 54 Pianos that were used in the public schools of Indianapolis since last September. They were all choice, new Pianos when they were placed there, and the use they have had has not hurt them. Your children or their teacher can tell you all about them. The price and terms of payment will move them quickly, as we need the room for new Knabe and Starr Baby Grands and Uprights that are daily arriving. We have the largest and most complete stock of Pianos ever shown in this city, and being manufacturers our price is always very much lower than the dealers'. A call at our store will prove beneficial if you intend buying a Piano. .

Talk of a Barbers' Union Heard-Other Matters.

The movement to close barber shops at 12 o'clock on Saturday nights and all day Sundays that originated with the journeymen barbers will likely lead to the formation of a tradesmen's union. There have been three barbers' unions in this city, but each time, through improper management, they failed. Heretofore the trouble has been between the down-town and suburban shops. The unions closed the shops on Sunday and established a price of 25 cents for a hair cut, but it was not long until the down-town shops were shaving and cutting hair behind blinds on Sunday. The suburban shops, many having only one or two chairs and not enjoying the heavy trade of shops in the business part of the city, while not being seriously affected by the Sunday closing rule, felt bitter over the breach of agreement and reduced the price of hair cutting to 15 cents. Then followed a general reduction all over town, and, with other controversies, the unions were finally Withiu the last week several shops have raised the price of hair cutting back to 2 cents, and it follows that the journeymen will now get together and try once more to hold up a union and a union scale. The former scale was $12 a week and a certain per cent., with hair cutting at 25 cents. of the largest boss barbers held out for the 15-cent hair cut, but paid union wages This action had much to do with breaking the union, but he is now in the 25-cent list and the journeymen barbers think the time is ripe for a union. It is likely that a national organizer of the barbers will be sent for within the next week to look over the situation, and if the barbers want an organization it will be formed. Already there is beginning to be a sti in union labor circles over the coming election of officers of Central Labor Union the second Monday in July. The candidates for president are M. T. Butler, of the Sawmakers' Union; J. M. Madden, of the Plasterers' Union; and Thaddeus Gurley, of the Carpenters. President John Blue has served two terms, and has not as yet announced his intention of again being a candidate. Harry Slough, of the Typographical Union, the present secretary, has no oppo Washington street.
